Your photo subjects this year will be participants from that battle re-enactment; Colonial and British officers, civilians, militia soldiers, British Grenadiers and Right Infantry soldiers, along with their muskets, swords other battle accoutrement and silk Regimental Colours. These soldiers will march on before you, demonstrate the tactics of the day, fire their weapons and provide close-up views of authentically recreated equipment from the American Revolution. After the initial demonstration members of the group along with their costumed families will be available for photo opportunities outside and portraits indoors in Photo-Op.
