Earth Is My Witness represents forty years of expeditionary photography. For the first time, Art Wolfe presents the three subjects at the heart of his work – landscapes, wildlife, and cultures on the edge of extinction – in a single masterpiece that takes us through the world’s ecosystems and geographical regions in a vivid display of the fragility and interconnectivity of life on Earth, while simultaneously exploring his evolution as an artist and the techniques he uses to capture the nuances and rhythms of nature. This multi-media production with projected images, video footage and live narration is presented by Art Wolfe host of the award winning and internationally telecast series “Art Wolfe’s Travels to the Edge” which airs worldwide. Over the course of his 40 year career Art has worked on every continent and hundreds of locations. His photographic mission is multi-faceted: art, wildlife, advocacy, education, and journalism. The author of over 80 books he maintains a gallery, stock agency and production company in Seattle, Washington. He is affiliated internationally as an Honorary Fellow of the Royal Photographic Society (UK). In the United States he is a member of the American Society of Media Photographers, the North American Nature Photography Association (NANPA) and the Photographic Society of America (PSA).
